▶ WHAT IS OZONE THERAPY ?

Ozone as a therapeutic molecule has been in clinical use for nearly a century. Molecular ozone is available on this earth at high altitudes, mountains, waterfalls, and is also produced while lightening strikes. Ozone therapy is used to treat a variety of conditions, such as chronic pain and inflammation, arthritis, various bacterial & viral infections, revascularisation of dead or dying tissues, and presently is even being studied as a potential treatment for cancer. Ozone finds great use in cosmetology, dermatology, skin care, auto immune disorders, and numerous medical dermatological and neurological conditions.

IAOS is the only manufacturer in india to offer medically certified ozone generators with CE marking and is also the only exporter of Ozone machines and accessories to Europe and other developed nations.

Here are the various accessories used for Ozone Therapy.

OZONE PROTECTION MASK :

Though ozone finds tremendous usage in medical practice, direct inhalation of ozone is not recommended. Ozone smell is an irritant and also exacerbates bronchial asthma and COPD.

Ozone inhalation by the treating clinician or assistants is not an issue in Intra articular, Intra diskal, Pain Portals, or MAHT, where the ozone is drawn into a syringe and the machine is switched off immediately.

However in insufflation procedures like vaginal, rectal, and other procedures where ozone in and out points are there, the exiting ozone has to go into a destroyer. However there is a possibility of leak and the whole room smelling of ozone. Likewise if the operation theatre is being sterilised with ozone, for the staff to go in and out during the process involves breathing of ozone which is not desirable.

IAOS ozone protection masks with activated charcoal, is a patent pending innovation, where an airtight mask is used and the inhalation is through a chamber filled with activated charcoal. This assembly is highly recommended with all ozone procedures for the therapist and staff.

IAOS Ozone protection masks set of three masks available at a special offer price or Rs 5000/- plus 12% GST.

STAINLESS STEEL OZONE DESTROYERS :

Ozone destroyers are needed for all exiting ozone gas so as to not diffuse in air and irritate our pulmonary or nasal mucosa. Stainless steel is the best ozone compatible material and connecting this to exiting ozone ensures safety for therapist assistant and patient.

IAOS Stainless steel ozone destroyers with activated charcoal and magnesium dioxide, are now available for Rs 10,000/- GST 18% applicable, courier free.

STAINLESS STEEL AND BRASS DIFFUSERS :

A therapist needs diffusers for uniform spread of ozone into water for drinking, ozonised water for misting face, ozonised saline for wound washes and pre closure washing, and ozonating oils for cosmetic and therapeutic applications. Putting the other end of a silicone tube into water or oil will bubble ozone no doubt but will not diffuse ozone thoroughly through water, saline or oil. Thus an ozone diffuser is used to uniformly perfuse the liquid with ozone. IAOS machines come with two diffuser stones, but stainless steel or brass diffusers are more convenient with better diffusion capabilities.

These diffusers are compatible with IAOS silicone tubes and will last for many many years. Diffusers can be autoclaved, washed and sterilised. It is recommended that the practitioner uses different diffusers for ozonating oils and water. Like wise it is also recommended that the practitioner keeps separate sets for OPD use, one for operation theatre and a couple spares. If the stones become clogged due to repeated use, just boiling them in water and then attaching the open end to a suction machine will clear all clogs and it will start working like new. The pictures below show the role of ozonated oil in regressing leukoplakia and buccal cancer.
